

Working Together For Student Success

At N-GENioUS Learning, we focus on a team approach to educating your child. To assist us in the process, we encourage communication between parents, teachers, and the schools. These items are completely optional, but would assist us in providing your child with the best overall experience.

Here are a few things you can do as a parent to ensure open communication and continued progress:

1. A list of your child's classes and names of their teachers. We will email each teacher (at your request) to establish an open line of communication and take a proactive approach to gathering any information which will help your child's success.
2. Obtain copies of your child's previous tests from his or her teacher(s) and provide them to N-GENioUS' center director. While we thoroughly assess each student before they begin instruction, your child's tutor can further target any academic skill deficiencies that are immediately impacting your child's grade.
3. Continue to have your child bring in any new tests or exams to tutoring sessions. This will allow us to ensure the information we teach in tutoring sessions translates into your child's classroom work.
4. Have your child bring in any relevant course handouts pertaining to upcoming projects, assignments, etc.
5. Let us know which textbooks your child utilizes for the subject they're being tutored in.
6. Provide us with any information necessary to access your child's grades and homework on-line (i.e. usernames and passwords) so that we may assist you in monitoring their progress at school.
7. Bring the school provided organizer or purchase an organizer for your child. This will help with time management, prioritization, as well as assignment and schoolwork organization.
